History

The Step Into Learning Preschool was established in September 2009, by Julie Chase, Patty Jones and Patty Sanderson.

The formation of the school was the fulfillment of their lifetime dream of owning and operating a preschool center. The school and staff are dedicated to developing exceptional programs for the preschool child.

Prior to opening Step Into Learning, Mrs. Chase, Mrs. Jones & Mrs. Sanderson spent a combined total of 53 years in the early childhood field in Danvers, working together as a team in a church owned preschool.

Their years of experience and knowledge of early childhood education, combined with their reputations as leaders in the preschool field, provide the solid foundation of the Step Into Learning preschool programs.

Parental Involvement

We welcome parents to visit the center and their child's room at any time.

We have a parent volunteer program, which you may enjoy participating in. Volunteer duties include: reading stories, sharing a craft, cooking, etc.

Parent involvement is very important, because a child's attitude about school is shaped by the attitude their parents convey.

Registration & Admission

Our Intake procedure involves, a visit to the school, an interview with the director, completed application, consent & medical forms, and a non-refundable registration fee payment. A parent handbook is provided which includes the statement of parental rights, procedures for health care and all Step Into Learning policies.

Activities

Our activities are developmentally appropriate and are geared to meet the standards set forth under the Massachusetts Developmental Guidelines.
